

April 30, 2010

COSTAR'S PEOPLE OF NOTE (APRIL 25-MAY 1)

It's time to update those contact managers with CoStar's People of Note, delivering news for the following companies: CB Richard Ellis Investors, CBRE, Real Estate Board of New York, The Buzz Oates Group of Cos. and NewOak Capital.

NEW YORK CITY - Sung Joins REBNY as Senior VP

The Real Estate Board of New York appointed Angela Sung as senior vice president of management services and government affairs where she will oversee the commercial and residential management division, which includes building codes, federal issues and real property regulatory issues. She succeeds Marolyn Davenport who is retiring after more than a quarter century in the position and various other roles for REBNY.

Sung is the former deputy chief of staff to Robert Lieber, the deputy mayor of economic development. Her focus included economic development initiatives, city planning, urban development and government technology.

She has a bachelor's degree from Johns Hopkins University and a master's degree in urban planning from New York University.

REBNY is a real estate trade association with more than 12,000 members. It is involved in tax policy, city planning and zoning, rental conditions, land use policy, building codes and legislation. The group also publishes reports on indicators of market prices for both the residential and commercial sectors.