

THE COMMERCIAL OBSERVER

JUNE 1, 2010

THE LOBBY

BY JOTHAM SEDERSTROM

The Real Estate Board of New York's has renamed its vaunted "Commercial Management Executive of the Year" award in honor of longtime Jones Lang LaSalle broker Edward Riguardi, it was announced last week.

Mr. Riguardi, a 45-year veteran of the New York commercial real estate industry, is currently a special adviser to Jones Lang LaSalle, where he served as a managing director with senior-level oversight of the firm's commercial office portfolio.

"It's a tremendous privilege to have this prestigious award named after me by my peers," said Mr. Riguardi in a prepared statement. "It has been a great honor to be a member and an officer of an organization that has worked very hard to address the many important issues that the city's real estate market must face."