

REAL ESTATE WEEKLY

Serving America's #1 Market

APRIL 28, 2010

REBNY stalwart Marolyn Davenport retires after 26 years of service

Over 100 people came together at Dos Caminos Restaurant to wish Marolyn Davenport a happy retirement and thank her for all her hard work at The Real Estate Board of New York after almost 26 years. Marolyn served as a senior vice president at REBNY in the Owners and Builders Division. She also served as the executive director of the REBNY Foundation. Among those who turned out to wish Marolyn well in her retirement were REBNY president Steven Spinola (right); Chi K. Chu, senior vice president of operations, Silverstein Properties; Jeffrey E. Levine, chairman, Douglaston Development and Peter L. DiCapua, chief operating officer ATCO Properties & Management, Inc. (below). And Leonard Boxer, chairman of the real estate department at Stroock, Stroock & Lavan LLP, and Burton P. Resnick, chairman & CEO, Jack Resnick & Sons, Inc. (bottom).

